

Questions And Answers

Q1. What is the difference between WAMP, LAMP and MAMP

Ans. WAMP Stands for Windows Apache Mysql and PHP. It works only on Windows.

Similarly, MAMP Stands for Macintosh Apache Mysql and PHP and LAMP stands for Linux Apache Mysql PHP.

Q2. What does the ip address 127.0.0.1 and <http://localhost> have in common

Ans. localhost and 127.0.0.1 are both used for local Development on a computer. Both refer to the same page and can be used interchangeably

Q3. What is the Purpose of an FTP program

Ans. FTP program stands for File transfer Protocol. It is used to transfer files from local computer to the web server.

Q4. Name the main Disadvantage of working on a remote web server

Ans. Accessing MYSQL remotely is not easy. You can always use remote web servers but unless you have high connection , it is not always the best option.

Q5. Why is it better to use program rich editors than plain text editors

Ans. Program editors can highlight errors before you can even run the code whereas plain text editors do not provide many details.